

PEG BOARD:-

METROLABS Pegboard and Stainless steel offer an ultimate well storage system for everything from clean rooms to the harshest environments. They are well suited for health care, medical, food, marine environments and more. The stainless steel system offers the first secured product of its type and presents a full range of stainless steel locked hooks that will never fall of the board. The stainless steel is unique and innovative as all hooks lock on to the board secured by a stainless steel screw. The locking system provides the user with the ability to add many new styles of hooks including extended and standard spring clip.
